HOD ELEVATOR TILTS. THREE MEN SLIDE OFF.

Ironworkers on Stern Building Cut and Bruised While Alarming Reports Bring Out Reserves.

Three ironworkers on the new Stern Building in Forty-second street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, hoisted the elevator at the sixth floor today and pulled the rope three times as a signal to the engineer on the ground floor to lower under control. Frederick Connors, the engineer, allowed the elevator platform to descend at a fair speed of its own momentum, keeping his hand on the lever brake controlling the cable drum. The elevator descended safely until almost to the first floor level. Then, because the three men were standing on one side and the weight was unevenly distributed, the platform swung loose from the side guiding grooves. Connors clapped on the brake at the drum and the platform stopped, but on a sharp start, and the three men slid off into a pile of building material. Harry Finnegan of No. 25 South Fifth street, Brooklyn, and Frank Swenberg escaped with cuts and bruises. Henry Meyer of No. 29 York street, Jersey City, was rendered unconscious and taken to Flower Hospital. His injuries are not serious. A report that three men had been killed made a big crowd gather and brought out the reserves of the East Fifty-first street station.

TOMBS STILL ROBIN'S NEST.

Convicted Bank Wrecker Gets Another 24-Hour Stay.

Joseph G. Robin, the convicted bank wrecker, was to have left the Tombs today to begin his sentence of one year in the work house. A stay of twenty-four hours, issued by Justice Page last night, was served on the warden of the Tombs and Robin will not go to Blackwell's Island until tomorrow. When sentenced Robin was promised sufficient time to allow him to straighten out his business affairs, which he had carried along daily in the District Attorney's office and elsewhere during the long period of his detention as a witness in the case of Reichmann, Cummings and Hyde. The respite of twenty-four hours is the last extension.

The New Spring and Summer Lingerie Dresses At About Half June Prices

Not only for faraway Winter resorts, but for dancing and parties in town these are just the thing.

Three Hundred New $8.50 to $10.98

Lingerie Dresses

At $5.00 Ea.

Simple in outline, but quite elaborate in embroideries and trimmings—as the new fashions demand. The demi-sleeves, with ruffles and straight hung skirts are new ideas. The material is a soft batiste, the trimmings handsome new embroideries, insertions and laces. Beautiful Valenciennes edgings and insertions are also introduced to give additional touches of daintiness to these clever frocks. Wonderful value at $5.00.

A range of sizes to suit large and small women as well as regular sizes—$2 to $4.

Two Hundred New $20.00 and $22.50

Lingerie Dresses

At $12.50 Ea.

Frenchy, little, high-waisted models, with the new demi-sleeves and the sauciest ruffles. All collarless, but not very low at the neck. There are soft voiles and batistes, most beautifully trimmed with heavy blind and other embroideries and laces, with sometimes a touch of black velvet ribbon or silk; straight or flounce effect skirts. Exquisite dresses at a very popular price, $12.50.

Quick-Disposal Sale of 300 Women's Long Kimonos & Dressing Sacques

The Regular $1.00 Values at 59c

Included in this limited number are a wide range of flannel and German flannel garments in a number of fetching patterns. The kimonos are well made and of an excellent material. The special price is for Thursday only.

Women's Bath Robes at $1.98

The regular $3.50 check blanket cloth, finished with girde at waist. All are double faced German flannel in attractive stripes.

Children's Bath Robes at $1.50

Every one an exceptionally well made garment of elderdown, and the reduction from $3.50—regular selling price—is made because many of the robes were slightly soiled in handling; the line is not complete and for that reason as well the price has been cut to less than one-half. 12-year size.
